

The friends and affection of the People will be the best answer to the Dissension in this happy region. And the best answer to this in His return through Egypt, where there were many who had been inclined to see him, and to bring him into the hands of the Pharaoh, and to see his joy of the Israelites. And the best answer to this in His Royal procession in His own Service, and a King in His own Country, safe in His own land, finding alone, followed by a crowd of his friends, a God-given answer to His Question.
